

FLAMES DOOM SEVEN.

Explosion, Followed by Fire in Factory Building, Deals Death and Disaster.

The explosion of a fuse followed by a fire in a building of the Clixmax Fuse company at Avon, Conn., Friday afternoon, caused a panic among twenty employees in the building and resulted in the death of seven and injuries that doubtless will prove fatal to several others.

There was no way of coping with the flames, which soon spread rapidly, and in less than an hour after the explosion occurred those who were unable to escape were in the clutch of a fire that eventually burned their bodies to ashes.

As the day wore on, the great crowd that collected in the hamlet saw the bodies of men and women roasting in the fire powerless to even check the flames.

The exact cause of the fatal accident may never be known, but it is the accepted theory that in an effort to burn out a stoppage in one of the machines, a workman caused an explosion of a fuse with the hot iron held in his hand.

Those who were in the room where the explosion occurred say that the explosion was not severe and ordinarily would not have caused a panic. Inflammable material, however, was set on fire and in a few moments the room was a mass of flames. In an instant there was a mad rush for doors and windows, and during the scramble many were pushed back into the building while others were severely burned.

GOVERNOR GIVES INSTRUCTIONS.

Georgia State Board of Health Upheld by Chief Executive.

Governor Terrell is backing up the action of the Georgia state board of health in enforcing state quarantine against yellow fever territory.

The governor has addressed to each of the quarantine inspectors appointed by the state board of health a letter directing them to follow in every particular the instructions given them by the state board of health and to permit no interference with their duties from any source.

In addition to the foregoing action, the state board of health Friday issued its third order, directing that the credentials of the state quarantine inspectors must be honored in the state, and as far outside the state as it is necessary for them to travel. If this is not done their trains will be stopped for inspection at the state line. The new order reads as follows:

"Order No. 3—September 14, 1905. It is hereby ordered by the Georgia state board of health that all railroads, steamboat lines and sleeping car companies operating in Georgia be notified that after this date the commissions of health officers of the state board of health must be honored for transportation anywhere within the state of Georgia, and as far out into the adjoining states as may be by them be deemed necessary for proper inspection. Failure of any company or companies to comply with this order will immediately necessitate the stopping and detention for examination at the state border of all trains, steamboats or sleeping cars belonging to such company or companies."

OPEN ASSASSINATIONS IN BAKU.

Murders Committed Indiscriminately in Public Streets of City.

The correspondent of the London Daily Mail at Baku, under date of September 14, says:

"Within the short space of two hours this morning five assassinations were committed in broad daylight in the busiest thoroughfares. The murderers escaped, owing to the indifference of the police, who are mostly Tartars.

"Sinister rumors that another Tartar attack on the Armenians is contemplated has caused a panic among the inhabitants."

RACE RIOT AT RACE TRACK.

Negroes and Whites Engage in Gun Play and Much Gore is Spilled.

A clash between white men and negroes occurred near Germantown, Tenn., Saturday afternoon, in which Eugene Scott, a constable, was shot and stabbed; a negro, named Smith, from Cordova, was killed; Robert Howard of Georgetown, was cut about the head and three or more negroes wounded. The fight occurred at the Wolf river race track, midway between Germantown and Cordova. Fifty or more shots were exchanged.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura soap and used Cuticura Ointment and the next morning I was wonderfully improved. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Smith, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Held Up the Congressman.

Representative Littlefield tells of a "bad quarter of an hour" he recently experienced in New York. He was on his way home from Washington, accompanied by his wife. They stopped over in New York for a few hours, and, having completed their shopping, they stepped into a restaurant for a light lunch before going to their train. When they had finished, and the waiter had presented a check for sixty cents, Mr. Littlefield felt for his pocketbook. It was gone, and not a cent did either of them have. He tried to telephone to friends whose places of business were in that section of the city, but it was a public holiday and none of them were in. He told the cashier his situation, explained who he was and how he came to be there without money. The cashier was glad to see him, etc. But that made no difference—he would not charge any more on that account; the lunches were sixty cents, and hurry up, please. Mr. Littlefield offered to leave his watch as surety, but the cashier had no use for it and wanted the change. Finally, leaving Mrs. Littlefield as security during his temporary absence, he went out and found a pawnbroker and spouted his valuable gold watch for $10 and cleared up the difficulty. Fortunately the railroad tickets were safe and they got home without further adventure. Later on, Mr. Littlefield received his pocketbook and its contents intact, it having been found by a New Jersey man in the car, and returned to the address found with it.—Lewis (Mo.) Journal.

Wag Caddie for Newport Belle.

Canine caddies are the latest innovation in Newport. They are introduced by Miss May Van Allen. Banning the small boy who formerly carried her golf sticks, she has installed a Scotch collie as caddie. When dressed for the game the dog wears a light leather harness, corresponding in color to his mistress's costume. To the straps across his back are attached a bag large enough to contain six or eight clubs, and from his neck is suspended a pouch for the balls. It's only natural a Scotch dog should be filled with the spirit of the game. The collie follows at Miss Allen's heels, ready to provide a putter, driver or lifter, as needed. He has also been trained to retrieve. At times he shows an intelligence which is a reproach to his predecessor, and Miss Van Allen avers he is a fine companion. His sense of duty is of the keenest. So is his loyalty, for it is averred gravely he waves his tail in pride whenever his owner makes a particularly good stroke.—New York Press.

Fine Place for a Stroll.

William Astor Chanler, the young explorer, was one of the guests at a dinner given in Washington by Count Cassini.

A young woman congratulated him on his energetic and successful life. She praised ardently his two books of travel. Finally she asked him to describe a real typical jungle for her. Mr. Chandler smiled.

"A real jungle, a typical jungle?" said he. "Well, I should describe a jungle of that sort as a forest of fish-hooks, relieved by an occasional patch of pen-knives."

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive menstruation accompanied by unusual pain extending from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)

"In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumor of the Uterus. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."

—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut St., Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation."

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my monthlies around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor in the uterus."

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing. Till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.
